THE BUSINESS BREED

2019 ANGUS MEDIA INTERNSHIP

---

This writing-intensive opportunity offers the chance to participate in producing publications, including the Angus Journal, Angus Beef Bulletin, Angus Beef Bulletin EXTRA, Angus Journal Daily, editorial websites and social media. The internship can be tailored to applicants' strengths, but many duties can be anticipated, including traveling to industry events. Experience in news and feature writing, editing and photography are strongly suggested. The basic template for the internship is as follows.

Attend two of the following:

- Beef Leaders Institute, June (potential; space availability not confirmed)
- American Society of Animal Science Meetings, July
- NCBA Summer Conference, July
- Cattlemen's Boot Camp as available
- Educational meeting of the intern's choice per approval of the editor
- National Junior Angus Show, Des Moines, Iowa.
- Beef Improvement Federation symposium, June, Athens, Ga.

Involved in production of:

- July, August and September Angus Journal
- September Angus Beef Bulletin
- June, July & August Angus Beef Bulletin EXTRAs
- Angus Journal Daily

Intern can expect to:

- Conduct three producer interviews
- Write at least one each of the following (these categories correspond to the ACT Critique & Contest and would give the intern a potential entry in each writing category):
  - News story
  - Short feature story
  - Long feature story
  - Personality profile
  - Research article
  - Research summary
- Learn the magazine production process for two distinctly different magazines
- Participate in the editorial planning process
- Assist in the daily gathering, compiling, proofing that feeds our information outlets
- Take responsibility for managing a column or two for the summer

How to apply:

Please submit cover letter, résumé, portfolio samples and three references to careers@angus.org no later than Friday, February 1, 2019.
